

15 October 2013

Dear Officer-in-charge,

Letter of Recommendation for Wang Jinghan

Jinghan is currently an iOS Engineering intern and a key team member at Carousell, a leading online marketplace and number one Made in Singapore app as featured by Apple on the App Store.

Proving himself to be responsible and a fast learner, Jinghan was entrusted to develop core features for our iOS app just after 2 weeks after he joined us. He has successfully migrated our entire app to be fully iOS7 compatible, in both the design and functionality. He also constantly takes the initiative to improve the code base to make the app quicker and more modular.

As his mentor, I would like to recommend this hardworking and very capable software engineer for a position in your company. His passion for software development and care for good design will definitely be a valuable addition to your team.

Thank you.

Best regards,
